Definition of done

Defining what criteria should be met before a user story is considered done.

Requirements:

- Product owner accepts the User Story.
- All the acceptance criteria for the user story are met.
- The user story has been functionality tested.
- 80% code coverage with tests.
- Code is reviewed by peers before pull request is accepted
- Static analysis is performed on the code, In the static analysis the code is checked for security, performance and maintainability. The static analysis should give any errors or red flags.